The Cameron Rotary Club was about to convene at a regular meeting Wednesday when a clatter from behind Kathy's Cafe drew much attention.

It turned out to be a helicopter bearing what probably were some geologists on a survey.

The clatter of the whirly-bird coming in for a landing was reminiscent of Santa's plane ride over Cameron prior to the Cameron Christmas parade earlier this month.

It seems everything is going airborne. Santa Claus, geology teams, and what all. It would seem that birds would find the flying room crowded with all the added competition of civilian air travel, not counting the zooming satellites, rockets and common ordinary jetcraft.

To think that man was once considered daring, if not crazy, for thinking he could fly. We recall the ancient legends of men attempting to fly, literally like birds. The first man attached a massive spread of feathers to his arms and shoulders and dove into space. It is not written whether his trip was successful.

100 - 100 - 100

Then came balloons towing men aloft in the 1700's and finally the Wright brothers who flew the first powered flight in this country at Kitty Hawk, N. C.

It doesn't take much imagination to project a few decades in the future when Dad will go to work by air, probably helicopter, rather than drive off in an automobile. Then things really can become crowded.

Can you imagine traffic cops directing lanes of traffic in mid-air, platform.

This sounds almost unreal until we realize where air travel is taking us. You can fly from Dallas to any point in the world in about 12 hours.

But that is really very little accomplishment. Santa visited Cameron the other day, making the trip in the flick of an eye.

LL Group Sponsors Christmas Shows

The Cameron Little League Association is sponsoring a special cartoon show December 24 for proceeds for the proposed Little League Park.

Chief Chester Simons, vice-president of the League, said that showings will be held 10:30 a. m. and 1 p. m. Christmas Eve Day December 24. Cost will be 15 cents per person under 12 years of age and 25 cents per person over 12.

Lions Hear Talk On Auto Insurance

The Cameron Lions Club heard James Wiggs discuss new insurance laws Tuesday at a regular meeting of the organization at the Texan Cafe.

Wiggs explained the new auto insurance plan which will benefit safe drivers after the first of the year.

Lions Club officials also announced that they are planning to present a minstrel in February. Bill Crockett is program chairman and his wife, Mrs. Anita Crockett will direct the show.

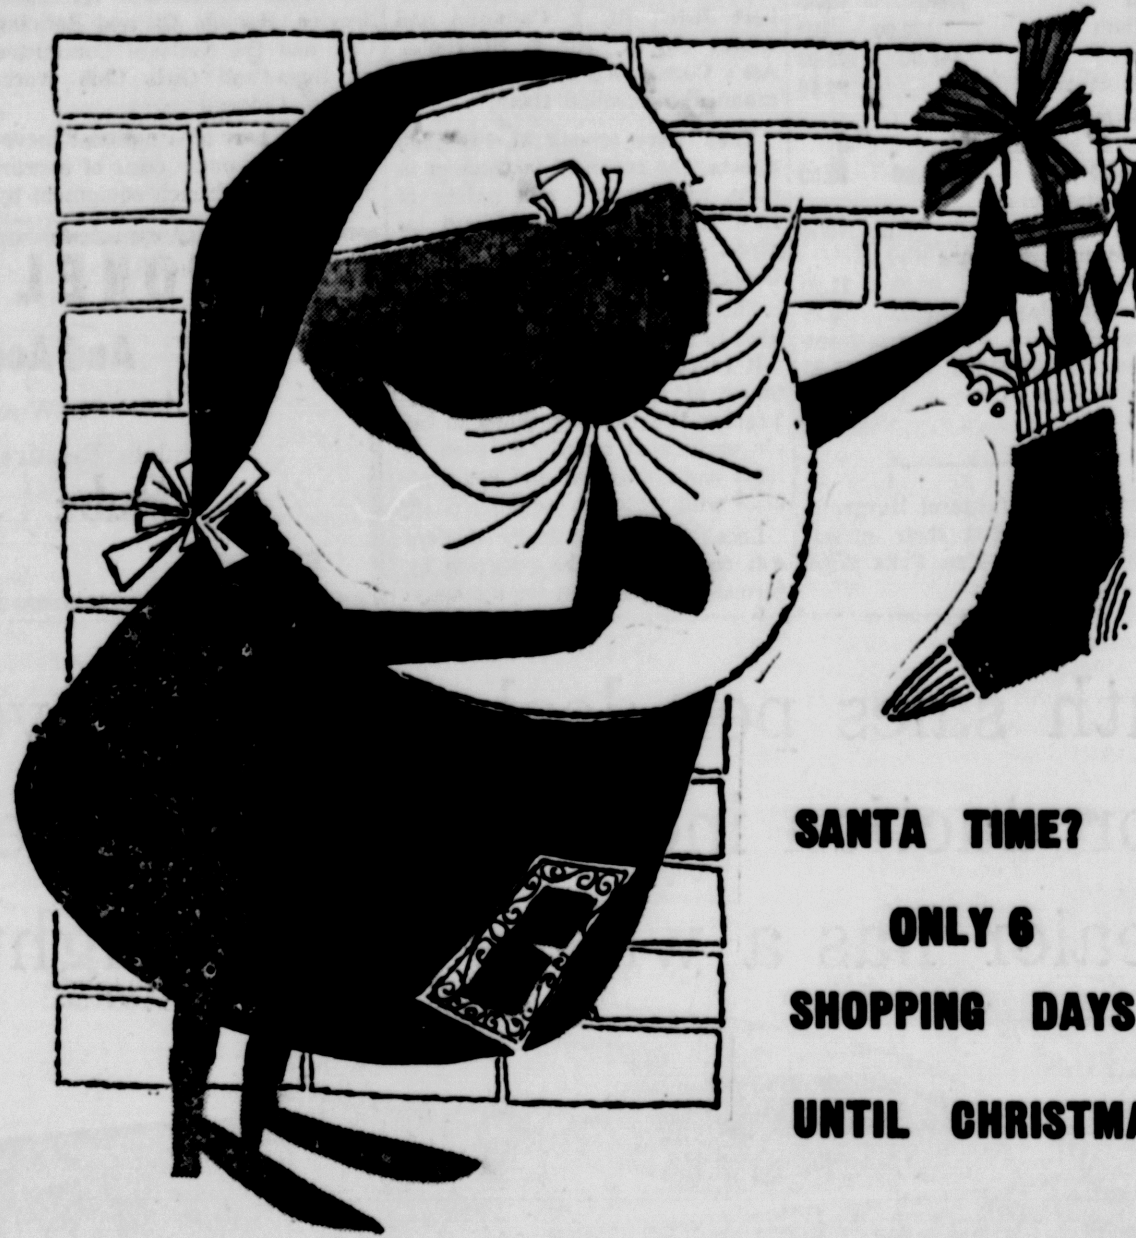

Four Cameron Lions went to a recent town meeting in Llano. They were President Richard Williams, vice-president Crockett, Secretary Tom Boyd and tailtwister Eugene Mees.

Board Reviews Audit

The Cameron School Board reviewed a school district audit and set teacher leave policy Thursday night at Ben Milam School.

Vance & Associates, Temple auditing firm, reported that general school records are being kept in a most excellent condition. It was the second year in a row that school records were commended by auditors.

Supt. Wiley Loughmiller commended Mrs. Alice Nelson for her work in maintaining school records. The 1959 - 60 district budget showed disbursements of $598,763.57 compared to receipts of $603,838.63. Budgetary funds receipts totaled $432,086.27 with disbursements of budgetary funds of $429,722.69.

Cash balance of fund bank account was $39,154.35 as of August 31, 1959, and cash balance of budgetary funds was $23,719.69 at that date. A detailed statement of all Cameron School funds is on an inside page of The Herald.

In setting the teacher leave policy, the board approved measures that include:

ONE — Allowing teachers to continue receiving five days of sick leave.

TWO — Allowing up to 20 additional days of sick leave for valid reasons such as death in the family or serious illness in the family.

THREE — Increase of substitute teachers daily pay from $7.50 to $8.

In other board action, Miss Dalie Young was employed to take the annual school census for the Yoe Campus and Albert Whiteside was named to take the school census for O. J. Thomas students.

Board members also approved a low bid from Holt's Sporting Goods, Waco, of $14.45 per jacket for Yoe High School football jackets. B & B

Sporting Goods bid $14.60 per jacket.

Board members also approved a textbook committee composed of Mrs. Adams, Miss Mary Randolph, V. A. Adams, Fred Johns, Leon Brady, J. R. Young and Loughmiller.

Football receipts for the 1959 season were $4,382.66, Loughmiller said. And he reported the student activity fund with a deficit of $423.57. Receipts for the YHS annuals last year were $1,000.20 and the cost was $1,423.77, he noted.

Foreign Students Speak To Rotary

Cameron Rotarians Wednesday heard Oscar Rocha and Lewis Zapata, Rotary foreign exchange student, discuss the cultures and viewpoints of their countries.

Zapata, 23, from capital - city, Lima, Peru, described his South American native land as a democracy dating its independence to 1824 and tracing its culture back to ancient Inca Indian civilizations centuries before Spanish conquest of South America.

Both Zapata and Rocha, 25, of Managua, Nicaragua, are studying civil engineering in the graduate school at the University of Texas. They were introduced by Bill Burns, program chairman.

Rocha described his nation, as many South and Central American countries, under the domination of a form of dictatorship. But he said Nicaraguans, a Central American nation, are unimpressed by Communist elements who, he said, are placed in jail.

He lives in Managua, capital city of Nicaragua, a fruit, cotton, and cattle producing nation. It is a city of 200,000 people.

Zapata presented the Cameron Rotary Club a small banner in behalf of the downtown Lima, Peru, Rotary Club.

He said his nation is progressing into an industrial stage, but has many problems to solve to raise the standard of living among its 10 million inhabitants.

He said that native Indians still maintain the language of the Inca civilization, once a highly developed culture in Peru.

Both students expressed appreciation for the opportunity to study in the United States under the program.

Zapata pointed out that an American discovered the Lost City of Incas in 1910.

Rocha told Rotarians he believed the Rotary Fellowship program was an excellent way to exchange ideas on how "you live in this country."

Peru produces cotton, sugar, wool, hides, valuable minerals, Zapata said.

Three Accidents Break 30 Days Of No Wrecks

Three accidents during the past seven days broke a month-long perfect accident record for Cameron, Police Chief Chester Simons said today.

He reported the three accidents caused about $900 damage to four automobiles and a house porch. A collision 10:30 a. m. December 10 involved vehicles driven by Barney Mitchell, 68, Winchell, Tex. Mitchell's 1948 Ford suffered an estimated $200 damage while Hoffs 1953 Chevrolet suffered about $300 damage.

A one - vehicle accident 2:35 p. m. Sunday caused about $50 damage to a house porch at 705 W. Hefley. A car driven by Sidney J. Stepp, 18, Fort Hood, overturned in making a turn in the 700 block of W. Heley St.

He was not injured. In a third accident this week, vehicles driven by Simon Kestenbaum, 76, Cameron, and Katherine Jo Pernice, 16, Cameron, collided at the intersection of Travis and Second Sts. Kestenbaum's Ford suffered about $75 damage and the Pernice vehicle about $275 damage, Chief Simons estimated.

Last Week To Help

Toy Work Begins

Cameron Junior Chamber of Commerce members were making plans for a work session this week to repair Santa Pal toys and plan a delivery schedule during Christmas week.

Jaycee President John Schigut asked that names of underprivileged children be turned in to any Cameron Jaycee. Names may be mailed to Jaycee, in care of The Cameron Herald.

Toys, either new or in need of minor repair, can be left at White's, Zarosky or Schigut's in Cameron, he said.

Toys needing minor repair can be used. Jaycees asked that groups having gift exchanges consider giving toys which can be distributed through Santa Pals to the less fortunate youngsters in the Cameron area.

Last year Cameron's fourth annual Santa pals project reached about 300 underprivileged children.

Schigut asked that toys be given to Jaycees by Saturday for final work before the Junior Chamber distributes them about December 23.

Council Approves Advanced Payment Of 2 City Bonds

Alvin Hefft, superintendent of the City water and sewer department Tuesday recommended that Cameron pay off two bond payments in advance.

He submitted for Council approval a summary of finances in both departments which showed revenue on hand in the sewer fund of $12,410 and in the water department of $29,430.43.

Councilmen approved the recommendation that a $7,702.42 sewer bond and a $12,035.03 water bond be paid in advance of due date. Payment of the bonds left $4,707.61 in the sewer department budget and $17,395.40 in the water department budget.

Firemen Answer Several Calls

Cameron firemen answered a call to a burning vehicle engine last week at Barr Gulf Station and a number of grass fires.

The engine fire in the truck was out by the time firemen arrived. No damage was reported when grass caught fire Sunday behind the Hilltop Cafe.

No major damage was reported in any recent city fires.

Fire Marshal John Eanes noted recently that total fire losses this year were about $10,000.

Graveside Services Held For Infant

Funeral services were held Friday afternoon for Rebecca Jane Barron, 2 - month - old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. N. E. Barron, Salem Road.

The infant died Thursday of complications due to a virus. The Rev. Aubrey F. Russell, pastor of the First Baptist Church, officiated at the service.

Survivors include: the parents, a brother John Earl Barron; maternal grandfather, L. L. Walton, Temple; maternal grandmother, Mrs. William Felix, McAllen; and a number of aunts and uncles.

Marek - Burns Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements.

Hospital Receives $160,000 Grant

The Hill - Burton committee, Austin, has approved a federal grant of $160,000 for Newton Memorial Hospital, according to T. G. Raymond, hospital administrator.

He said that it is necessary for the hospital to match this fund and provide a building site before the money can be obtained.

"Before any plans can be completed," Raymond said, "it is necessary for the hospital to raise additional funds and contributions to Newton Memorial Hospital are tax deductible."

Here's Weather Forecast

WEATHER FOR THE WEEK:

Since weather runs in cycles we might say that we have enjoyed the most favorable portion of this season and the cold wintry blasts of cold air which we have looked forward to reluctantly are now on the threshold of the Southwest.

Dynamic pressure falls are taking place in the Western Mountain region and cold winds are ravaging the Canadian plains as the Arctic storms move slowly, however relentlessly southward. Ample moisture and warm air currents are moving up out of the Gulf of Mexico to offer some resistance to the southward advancing cold weather but because of its coldness and heavy density nothing will prevent its march toward south central Texas and the Gulf of Mexico. Many sections of the Lone Star State will be treated to a white Christmas and these regions not expecting snow will have slippery pavements and roadways.

THURSDAY

Sunny and mild with scattered morning clouds and patchy ground fog in the Taylor, Cameron and Georgetown area. Rising humidity in the advanced hours of evening. Brisk southerly winds 15-20 diminishing after sundown. High 53 - 62. Low 42 - 46.

FRIDAY

Little temperature change but continued strong humidity rising with low clouds and early morning fog. Clearing skies in the late morning with falling pressure warm and windy in the afternoon. Southerly winds 25-30 during the day and 10-15 during the evening. Low clouds rolling up from the coast after 11 p. m. High 62 - 66. Low 44 - 48.

SATURDAY

Heavy showers and scattered thunderstorms in the afternoon. Clearing and colder in the late evening. Much drier with rising pressure and strong northerly winds 25 - 35 during the night. High 48 - 52. Low 36 - 38.

SUNDAY

Scattered high morning clouds, sunny and cool during the day with falling humidity and rising pressure. Brisk north winds 15 - 20 during the day and diminishing at night. High 42 - 44. Low 26 - 30.

Continued rising pressure and mostly sunny with light and variable winds. Low humidity and continued light freezing conditions at night and in the early morning. High 48 - 50. Low 30 - 34.

TUESDAY

Increasing high clouds in the afternoon and late morning. Not quite so warm with rising humidity and brisk northeast winds 10-15. Increasing, moderately heavy middle clouds in the late evening. High 44 - 46. Low 30 - 34.

WEDNESDAY

Heavy morning clouds and continued brisk northeast winds 10-15 with low clouds forming in the mid afternoon and light rain beginning in the evening. Falling pressure during the evening with light rain turning to freezing rain from Roud Rock - Georgetown - Waco westward by 1030 - 11 p. m. High 32 - 42. Low 30 - 32.

THURSDAY

Low morning clouds and shifting winds to the southeast 18 - 22. Light freezing rain turning to rain by mid morning and clearing in the late evening. Rising pressure but continued high humidity. Low 36 - 40. High 52 - 54.

Council Hears Delegation On Downtown Cost

The City Council Wednesday morning approved amendments to the city garbage ordinance, reducing residential cost to 75 cents and outlining four categories for setting business pickup cost.

The changes in the ordinance, which had been passed on second reading in September, followed a discussion Tuesday night with a delegation of Cameron business men about the actual cost of six - times - a - week downtown garbage and trash pickup.

Outcome of the discussion was this revised rate structure for both residential and business area:

BUSINESS — Changed from a straight $3 per month per business charge to a minimum $1.50 per month upwards, dividing the 312 Cameron businesses into four categories, depending on the type of business and average amount of refuse and trash normally available for pickup for each category of business.

Service would include daily except Sunday service to all businesses unless it develops some do not need daily service, Mayor Basel Wilson said.

RESIDENTIAL — Service charge for twice - a - week garbage pickup and once - a - week trash pickup was reduced to 75 cents from $1. Service would be the same schedule previously announced in the residential areas.

Wilson told the visiting group of business people that he had obtained copies of eight city garbage ordinances from near - by cities and that each of the towns had garbage service at less than was originally set by the Cameron City Council.

The city recently added a second garbage unit for use in the increased garbage pickup service to residential and business areas.

Wilson told The Herald that 24 out of 312 business locations had been using the city service prior to passing the new garbage control ordinance.

Dr. T. E. Crump, acting Milam Health unit director, said the new ordinance followed a recommendation from the State Health Department for improving health conditions in Cameron.

Hardy Fuller, Cameron, has been operating a six - day - a - week pickup of refuse and trash and several of the group spoke in behalf of Fuller's enterprise in his work in past years.

A copy of the resolution was published in the recent edition of The Herald.

In other Council news Tuesday night, Councilmen, Richard Moseley, Lincoln Mondrik, Sam Houston Hayden Lawrence and Roy Griffith agreed to a special Council session to review needs for improved phone service in the Fire Department discuss bids on overhauling a city roadgrader and study a workman's compensation program for all employees of the city except elected officials.

The Council tabled bids from Dulaney Service Co., San Antonio, of $5,750, and a $3,300 - bid from Jim Dulaney, San Antonio, on overhauling the grader. A third non - itemized bid was rejected. A bid for 29 acres of city property along the pumphouse road was accepted. L. C. Sanders was high bidder at $251.50 for a one - year lease on the property. A second bid of $190 was submitted by John Ethridge, Cameron.

The Council also renewed the Cameron Saddle Club's one - year lease for the arena area maintained by that group in Wilson - Ledbetter Park.

4-H Club Notes

By Robert W. Hoermann
Ass't County Agent

TRACTOR SCHOOL Representatives of 4-H Club work in Milam County have completed a two-day 4-H Tractor School for adult leaders in Temple. They were Hubert Jistel, Rt. 1, Cameron and Albert Slovak, Rt. 2, Buckholts. Ass't County Agent Robert Hoermann accompanied them.

They were among 27 4-H Club agents who received instruction in care, maintenance and safety of farm tractors. The men will instruct 4-H Club boys in Milam County in the same subjects. The school is one of 25 scheduled in the state as a part of the 4-H Tractor Program. It is a forerunner of the Milam County 4-H Tractor Program scheduled to begin early next month, as soon as local clubs organize and get material with which to work.

Local farm machinery dealers will cooperate in the program by furnishing equipment for a county-wide school. When the schools are conducted on a local or community club basis farm machinery will be furnished by the participants.

The 4-H Tractor program is sponsored throughout the state by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Humble Oil and Refining Co., and the National Committee on Boys and Girls Club Work, Inc. of Chicago.

It is a part of a national movement to minimize costs of operating farm and ranch equipment by providing better maintenance. The 4-H Club Tractor Program is in all 50 states and the territories. RANGE MANAGEMENT AWA-RDS The third year of the 4-H Range Management Awards Program, under the sponsorship of the Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers Association, began Sept. 1, 1959. Range management demonstration programs should begin now in order to have a complete record by the close of the contest year, August 1960.

The two state winners under this program receive scholarships to the Youth Range Camp sponsored by the Texas Section, American Society of Range Management.

Countians Buy Herefords

By D. Moore
County Agent

"Cattle herds are no better than the herd sires" is an accepted stockman's opinion. Milam County stockmen who attended the recent Capital Area Herford Show and Sale in Austin and bought Hereford breeding bulls are: Leon Noack, Rockdale; Henry W. Abel and Mrs. Viola Laffere of the Sharp community; R. H. Hensley, Rt. 1, Cameron and Dick Ellison, Baileyville Community.

Recent winners in the County Pecan Show will send entries to the State Pecan show at A & M College in January.

Mrs. R. G. Grabein, Eastern Schley; Anton Anderle and E. J. Provaske Desirable, Success and Masler varieties; Ronald and Bernard Kostroun, Success and Delmas variety; Joyce Fuchs, Mahan; and F. J. Karnowski, John Garner and Stewart varieties.

ANT REPORTS

The following report has been received from C. F. Garner, Extension Entomologist: "We have received identification of the fire ant from Washington which you sent to our office about three weeks ago. The specimens have been identified as the tropical fire ant. As you know, this is one of the native species which we have in Texas. These ants were somewhat different to the regular specimens which we have received. For that reason, we thought it best to send them to Washington for positive determination."

Figs bear fruit only on current season growth. If trees are left unpruned, they will grow to sizes out of proportion and require extra plant food to support the surplus woody part of the plants. In order to encourage more growth and consequently more fruit production, it would probably be desirable to remove from 1-3 to 1-2 of the growth on fig plants. This should encourage more vigorous growth and more figs.

FAMILY DEMONSTRATIONS

Five families of the Splawn community met at the Leo Moraw home recently with their neighbors and the Extension agents to plan common interest problems. Farm and Home Management was discussed by the group at this initial meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Moraw were hosts to the group and served coffee, cold drinks and cookies. The next meeting will be held at the new home of Mr. and Mrs. Hugo Hollas, the night of January 5, 1960.

The group selected "Landscaping and Beautification of the Home" to be discussed at the next meeting. The county Extension agents will assist with the discussion.

Attending the meeting in addition to the Leo Moraw family, were the Hugo Hollas, Anton Moraw, Johnnie Good and Alfred Barta families.

TAES Releases Management Guide For East Cen-Texas

COLLEGE STATION A guide for estimating the return to labor and management and a listing of resources needed for a $2,500 labor - management income in Central and East Texas has been released by the Texas agricultural Extension Service.

It should be especially helpful to persons now farming or ranching or contemplating doing so in these areas. The guide was written by Tom E. Prater, extension farm management specialist; Sidney L. Jenkins, extension agent in farm management and other Texas A & M personnel.

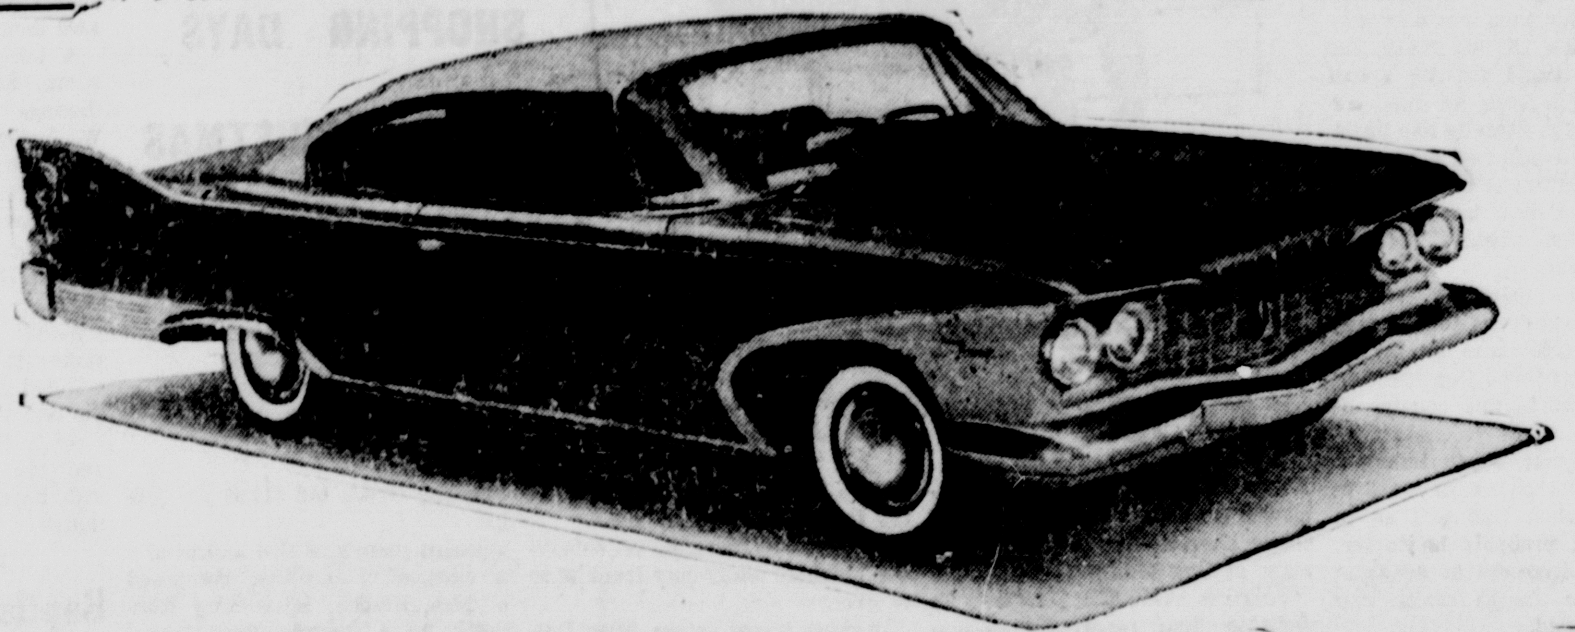

Ten enterprises are budgeted, with a goal of $2,500 estimated return to labor - management, except with feeder pigs, Prater said. Enterprises considered are: cow-calf (beef operation), timber, beef, sheep, feeder pigs, slaughter hogs, commercial egg production, broilers, turkeys and dairy cattle.

Estimated expenses and estimated income from the 10 operations are also listed and space is provided for you to estimate the value of your particular operation and compare it with the guide. Estimates were obtained from research data and other sources that are applicable to the enterprise in these areas. The estimates should be used as a guide, with adjustments in a particular situation, Prater added.

Rogers Group Meets Final Plans Set At Long Residence For Grid Dinner

The Women's Society of Christian Service and Wesleyan Service Guild met in the home of Mrs. Frank Long for a joint meeting and Christmas program. The program theme, "The Hush of Expectation," was introduced by the piano playing softly as a drum beat, out of sight, signaling the beginning of the celebration of Christ's birthday in Sarawak. Mrs. Eunice Washburn sang "O Come, O Come Immanuel" as part of the Meditation.

Tax Book Shows '60 Depreciation On Tangible Items

COLLEGE STATION — Some taxpayers may overlook recent changes in income tax regulations that could reduce their 1959 tax.

One new feature is the 20 percent first year depreciation allowance on tangible personal property. Farm and ranch operators should know the limitations on this special depreciation option in order to decide whether to use it, according to C. H. Bates, extension farm management specialist.

To be eligible for this first year write-off, the property must have a useful life of six or more years. Usually a tractor or combine will qualify. Also, the property must have been purchased. Bates said any asset acquired by gift or inheritance does not qualify.

The maximum amount on which this depreciation can be taken is $10,000 on a separate return and $20,000 on a joint return. However, explained the specialist, this limitation may include several items of property to make up the total.

The full 20 percent additional depreciation can be taken on equipment bought in December so it enables quick recovery of this much of the cost. Then, the regular yearly depreciation can be set up for the remaining cost, less salvage value.

For example, a tractor bought on December 5 for $4,200 would be allowed $840 first year depreciation. In addition, one month's regular depreciation would be allowed. If a salvage value of $160 is set up, the annual straight line depreciation on an eight-year basis would be $400. Depreciation for the month of December would be $873 ($840 plus $33). In 1960 the depreciation allowance on the straight line method would be $400.

For a complete explanation of this and other newer features of the tax regulations, obtain a copy of the 1960 Farmer's Tax Guide. It is available from your local county agricultural agent and from the Internal Revenue Service.

Council Recommends

Yule Tree Safeguards

The gaiety of the Christmas season can be changed to grief and sorrow within seconds.

The home, during this season, is usually loaded with fire hazards and unless safety precautions are taken an accident could happen, warns the Texas Farm & Ranch Safety Council.

The Christmas tree, the center of most home decorations, can be a principal hazard. The Council suggests that a freshly cut tree be selected a few days before Christmas. Before it is placed in the house, the base of the tree should be cut diagonally and placed in water or wet sand. This will keep the tree fresh and help in retarding fire.

The tree should be placed so that it will not block exits to a room place, powerful electric lights and other sources of heat.

The Council recommends that only Underwriters Laboratories approved lights be used on the tree. Lights which have been used before should be checked for frayed wires or damaged sockets. Electrical circuits should not be overloaded with additional lights, toys and appliances.

Only nonflammable decorations should be used on the tree and tree lights should be turned off when no one is at home or when the family retires. There should be discarded when the needles begin to dry and fall.

Who's To Be Boss?

Much, perhaps too much, has been said about taxes.

It is apparent that federal income tax structure has weakened the position of states, municipalities and school districts.

A basic question must be resolved before any political entity can take a realistic view of its tax structure: Who is going to do the job of maintaining and improving public institutions?

Now that federal power is moving into every avenue of government and social structure, the smaller bodies politic need to decide what they want. Are the school districts, cities, counties and states to regress, only to open the way for final federal controls? Or are these governing groups going to reassert their value and ability to solve their own problems?

While we cry out for more self rule, we shirk the responsibilities of ruling ourselves. Review the low percentage of voter interest in any city, county or state. It causes us to see why federal government becomes more autonomous.

There seems to be begrudging acceptance of the impersonality of a distant federal rule, which is diametrically opposed to home rule. The two forever must overlap and finally collide.

Must it take the intervention of big government to arouse interest in our own? If that be the case, Americans should be taking a critical reanalysis of their own local governments.

And finally we must decide whether we are to use our local governments to thrust ahead in a satellite age or to stand aside for inevitable bureaucratic development.

The issue lies in wanting self-government for status quo or for the needs of growth. We can apply a portion of federal taxes to state and local government development if Americans want more states rights and dynamic self government. Tax reductions at the federal level can be obtained if people really want them.

Or shall it be greater bureaucracy to the detriment and final elimination of lesser government? Political scientists are not agreed on the practical merits of many small governments compared to one giant.

Our tax structure will determine the future of all governments. By indirect compromise, lesser governments are greatly dependent upon federal funds now. With each grant, federal influence spreads a bit further toward the status of Big Brother.

The choice will not be ours much longer. As the U. S. steps further into world entanglements, the dollar influence goes with it. And those dollars must circulate through federal channels.

The U. S. is committed to international politics. How much must local autonomy diminish to maintain that status?

That role will be determined by tax structure, i. e., whether we pay more dollars for federal or lesser government. Dynamic self rule is in the balance.

Ike's Tour de Peace...

The President's tour of Pakistan, Afghanistan, India, Iran and Turkey has brought home the widening importance of world politics and the Oriental World to "peace in our time."

It now seems that the U. S. is gaining new authority and new responsibility in these areas to the chagrin of colonial-founder Britain.

British newspapers have indicated that Eisenhower's momentous reception in India has created concern among British leaders because India is still a member of the Commonwealth.

Britain colonized what is now Pakistan and India 300 years ago and granted the two nations independence during serious religious wars between Hindu and Moslem in 1947.

However, Eisenhower's remarks to the Indian parliament came at a time when Red China menaces her northern borders and protectorate states. Britain made no effort to quiet their discomfort.

It is perhaps regrettable that the U. S. must step into further unwritten alliances across the world. But Khrushchev spelled out the stakes on his recent visits to the U. S., Red China and satellite nations.

All these visits for peace and security lead to the summit with Khrushchev next spring. While DeGaulle and Macmillan urge greater roles in the final talks, Eisenhower is setting up a U. S. power position that Russia unmistakably will recognize as a counter to a combine of Red China and Russia.

Thus Eisenhower is turning Khrushchev's "peace crusades" to a more favorable position for the West. And it will be at the cost of British and French prestige.

The Little River Philosopher

Sage Advises World To Ignore Him, Mongolia In Future Plans

Dear editor:
One of the reporters following President Eisenhower on his tour of the world has wired back that a leader in one of the more backward, or to be more diplomatic, less forward countries pointed out to him that "as long as one spot on earth is underdeveloped, the rest of the world is held back that much."

I'm convinced of that all right, but is the rest of the world? For example, take my Johnson grass farm out here. Regardless of how you stretch the truth, you can't stretch it far enough to cover the fact this place is underdeveloped, yet I've been watching the rest of the world, from my nearby neighbors on out in all directions, and if any of them are being held back by me, I can't tell it.

I can't understand it, but some people have a tendency to ignore this basic law and forge on ahead, little aware that I can prove it to them in writing that they're being held back by me, Afghanistan, the African jungles, the frost-bitten North Pole, and several people whose names I won't call and you wouldn't publish if I did.

Understand, I don't blame them. I don't mind saying, if the rest of the world is looking back over its shoulder wondering when I'm going to catch up and free it to move forward, it can stop looking. I don't intend to budge.
If disaster is going to hit the world, as a lot of leaders are fearing, I can't see any difference in sitting still and waiting for it than in rushing forward and meeting it, except that the former is easier, less expensive, and you can do it sitting by a warm fire.
However, to tell you the truth, I don't really think disaster is going to hit, at least not in my lifetime. Man is pretty smart, all right, lots of times his guided missiles shoot straight, but not having cheated himself, I doubt if he can eliminate himself altogether.
When that foreign leader claims that as long as one spot on earth is underdeveloped, the rest of the world is held back that much, I but I doubt if Washington can afford it.
Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Teachers' Raises: 'To Be Or Not?'

By Vern Sanford

AUSTIN — As the year draws to an end, it appears Texas' big political question of the moment will not be answered until next year.

That is the question of whether the Legislature will be called into special session to raise teacher salaries.

Gov. Price Daniel has said that if he does call a session, it will not begin until after Feb. 1, filing deadline for the primaries. Next few weeks are to be spent in study and conferences with legislative leaders on possible methods of financing.

Governor Daniel said that in answer to his poll a majority of lawmakers (77 House members and 20 Senators) had written him they favored teacher raises. Many of these, however, attached "ifs" and "buts" that left considerably less than a majority in favor of plunging right into the task in a special session.

Fifty-four Representatives did not send answers to the governor, and it is generally assumed they do not favor a session.

Besides teacher pay, the governor said a special session would also be asked to raise money to pay for medical aid for people on the state welfare rolls.

He will not call a session, said the governor, unless he feels reasonably sure its tasks can be accomplished in the 30 days. But he isn't giving it up, he added, as long as it seems possible "with some hard work to get it over."

TOO LITTLE TIME

Among those with doubts about the probable success of a special session is House Speaker Waggoner Carr.

In his answer to the governor's poll, Carr said he felt education was too important a subject "to be legislated upon under the extreme pressures of a 30 day limitation."

Carr also called on the governor to spell out well in advance of any session the tax proposals he would submit so legislators would have time to talk them over with their constituents.

Governor Daniel shot back that he would submit, for one, the abandoned property bill which would allow the state to take over unclaimed funds held by banks, insurance companies and other firms. This bill was repeatedly voted down in the House earlier this year.

NO YEN FOR BENCH

Though his political future is not settled, Governor Daniel has definitely ruled out the possibility that he might become a state or federal judge.

There had been some speculation that Daniel, who already has held a raft of high offices, might succeed retiring Chief Justice of the Supreme Court John E. Hickman or the late Jimmy Allred as a federal district judge. Daniel said he had great respect for the judiciary, but whether as public official or private citizen, he wouldn't want to be sidetracked from the fight for "progress, good government and fair taxation."

He would not say that he would not run for governor or lieutenant governor.

STATE RELIEF DROPS

As more people become eligible for social security, the number of Texans seeking state old age pension is decreasing.

State Department of Public Welfare reported the number of old age pensioners dropped by 1,426 in the past fiscal year. Number of Texans receiving aid through the Welfare Department was 224,113, only about two-thirds of the 368,418 getting social security checks.

Total monthly welfare payments for the state were some $11,685,333 compared with $20,622,190 a month in social security.

CRIME RATE RISES

Texas' fast-growing cities seem to be surging ahead in crime faster than in almost any other area. Houston had in the first nine months of the year 89 murders, same number as Los Angeles, four times as large a city.

Figures released by the Federal Bureau of Investigation showed these murder figures for Texas' ten top cities: Houston, 89; Dallas, 67; Fort Worth, 40; San Antonio, 37; El Paso, 15; Beaumont, 11; Lubbock, 10; Austin, 6; Corpus Christi, 5; Waco, 4.

20 Years Ago

Citizens National Bank was the North Pole of Cameron for Santa. Bright lights were cast on snow scenes for young and old alike. Mrs. George Childress Jr. was the hostess of the Bridge Club at her home.

Mr. and Mrs. Jessie Gibbs of Yarrington were Cameron visitors during the week.

A survey for a new bridge over Little River was being made.

40 Years Ago

Cameron Commercial Clubs were called to a meeting to discuss the future of Cameron. Among the items discussed at the meeting was the Waco - Temple Interurban.

A special examination was given to Teachers of Cameron schools. Some ads listed in the Cameron Paper in 1919 were Syrup - 85 cents a gallon. Apples - 25 cents a pound and a 3 lb. bag of coffee $1.65.

Guesswork Doesn't Mix With Hunting

"Guessing and hunting, like driving and drinking, don't mix" warns the Executive Secretary of the Texas Game Commission. "The famous first words of a hunter who just killed his buddy is 'I thought it was a ...'"

"This year's hunting accidents have been reasonably low considering the number of hunters going into the field each day," said the executive. "If all those planning to hunt this year will just resolve not to load their rifles until on the spot where they plan to hunt, keep the safety on and muffle up until ready to sight in, and be certain that what they sight in is not another hunter, accident records this year will remain low."

"Excitement sometimes leaves our minds blank for seconds, time enough to miss a deer or kill a friend," said the executive. "If you're not positive it's game, don't squeeze the trigger. The chance out of a thousand that it isn't your game is too great a chance to take. It's far better to return empty handed than to take a chance on accidentally killing a friend."

State Gets $13,155 Fines In Game Laws

AUSTIN More than 300 Texas hunters paid fines last month for violation of game laws, according to the director of law enforcement of the Game Fish Commission. In all 461 persons were arrested for hunting and fishing violations. They paid $13,155.35 in fines and costs. Four served jail terms.

Despite warnings about hunting with unplugged guns, 49 paid fines for carrying shotguns with more than three - shot capacity. Next on the list 46 paid fines for killing too many doves.

Failure to have hunting and fishing licenses brought fines for 98 persons. There were 39 arrests of automobile hunters and seven for headlighting game animals. Quail shooters also got in too big a hurry and 37 killed them out of season.

There were a number of violations on killing dove deer, selling game animals and killing deer out of season.
